Hague, September 22, N. S.

ALL the publick Miniſters here were invited by the States to meet Yeſterday Morning, when the following Reſolution was communicated to them, in order to be tranſmitted to their reſpective Courts.

Reſolution of the High and Mighty Lords the States General of the United Netherlands. Copied from their Regiſter.

Saturday, Sept. 12, 1722.

A Petition was read in the Aſſembly from John Archdeacon Merchant of Rotterdam, being one concerned in a French Snow or Bark, formerly called the St. Peter of Pollegine, commanded by a French Maſter, with five Sailors, laden at Cork in Ireland with Barrels of Beef, and bound for Nantes in France; ſetting forth, that the ſaid Snow took in at Cork as Paſſengers, Philip Roche, Pierce Cullen, Andrew Cullen, and Richard Neale; that the ſaid Paſſengers made themſelves Maſters of the Captain and Seamen of the ſaid Snow, and it was ſuſpected did Murther them, and afterwards put into Dartmouth in England; where they ſold Part of the ſaid Barrels of Beef, known by the Mark; and becauſe the Ship was known new painted her, by that Means to render her unknown; that not being able to diſpoſe there of her whole Lading, they ſailed to Oſtend, where not being able neither to put off her ſaid Lading, they proceeded to Rotterdam, and ſtaid there till the 28th of February laſt: That the firſt of the ſaid Paſſengers, named Philip Roche, pretended to be Maſter of the ſaid Snow, which was then called the Mary; that he cauſed the ſaid Ship to be painted again at Rotterdam, and took in there 15000 Weight of Iron, four Vats of Madder, one Hundred Hogſheads of Hempſeed, deſigned for Waterford in Ireland, and alſo hired ſome Mariners to help navigate the Veſſel; but that in the mean while Richard Neale left the Ship, and went in another for Limerick, and therefore in all Likelihood is not now with the ſaid Snow: That the ſaid Philip Roche took on board as a Paſſenger one Henry Ouſley an Engliſhman living near Dartmouth, having with him Merchandize to the Value of 5000 Gulders in Linnen and other fine Goods, undertaking to put him and his Effects on Shore near Dartmouth: That departing from Rotterdam he put into Dover; that the ſaid Henry Ouſley wrote from thence to his Wife, that he hoped in a few Days to be at Home, but had not ſince appeared; ſo that it was preſumed the ſaid Paſſengers had made away with him, as alſo with the Seamen, there being no Account of them ſince they were taken on board at Rotterdam: That the ſaid Snow, with the ſaid Philip Roche, Pierce Cullen, and Andrew Cullen, put into Havre de Grace, and being known there by the Marks of Part of the Lading above ſpecified, as alſo by the Sale of the fine Goods belonging to the ſaid Henry Ouſley, (notwithſtanding they had altered the ſaid Ship into a Brigantine, and called it the George, pretending it belonged to one Jacob Maſon, who in all probability is one of their Accomplices, and who ſold it there to Pierce Cullen,) the ſaid Pierce, with his Brother Andrew Cullen, and four Engliſh or Iriſh Seamen, (according to Advices from Havre de Grace) ſailed with the ſaid Snow for Dublin; but on their Arrival there, apprehending their wicked Deeds were ſuſpected or would be diſcovered, they ſuddenly denly ſailed from thence: That the Petitioner had not yet learnt with any Certainty whither; however, that he gueſſed as the Wind then ſtood they might come this Way, and be ſince gone further North: That on board the ſaid Snow ſtill remained Pierce Cullen, about 32 Years old, Pale-faced, and his Brother Andrew Cullen, about 20 Years old; that the ſaid Snow had two Maſts, and is of the Burthen of 50 or 60 Tons or 25 or 30 Laſts: That the ſaid Philip Roche going on board another Ship at Havre de Grace as a Paſſenger, went to Ireland, thence fled to London, and being taken there, was examined by the Lord Carteret Secretary of State, and committed to Newgate as a Criminal; that he the Petitioner was extremely concerned to have the ſaid Villanies and execrable Murthers committed by the foreſaid Philip Roche, Pierce Cullen, Andrew Cullen, and Richard Neale fully diſcovered; and that if the ſame were not puniſhed with all Rigour, Navigation could no longer be carried on with Freedom and Safety, in which this State is in the higheſt Degree intereſted; wherefore he beſought their High Mightineſſes to be pleaſed to acquaint therewith the Miniſters of foreign Powers reſiding at the Hague, that they might write to their Principals about it; as alſo that their High Mightineſſes would be pleaſed to ſend Order to their Miniſters and Conſuls abroad, to make urgent Inſtances that the ſaid Snow, with the ſaid Perſons and their Accomplices might be ſeized, whatever Place ſhe might put into, and they be puniſhed according to their Deſerts; and that their High Mightineſſes would be pleaſed to take ſuch further Care as they ſhould judge proper for the Security and Freedom of Navigation and Commerce.

The ſaid Petition being taken into Conſideration, it is thought fit and reſolved, hereby to deſire and to appoint M. Henkelom and other their High Mightineſſes Deputies for foreign Affairs, to notify what is above ſpecified to the Miniſters of foreign Powers reſiding here, and to deſire them to tranſmit an Account of the whole Matter to their reſpective Principals, to the end the ſaid Snow, with the ſaid Perſons and their Accomplices or any of them, coming into any Harbour or Place in their Dominions, may be ſeized, and the Perſons puniſhed ſuitable to their Crimes.

That a Copy of this their High Mightineſſes Reſolution ſhall be ſent to the Miniſters and Conſuls of this State, in foreign Parts, to be communicated to the Courts of the Places where they reſide, with Inſtances to the forementioned Purpoſe.

That further the ſeveral Colleges of Admiralty ſhall be directed to give Order each in their reſpective Diſtrict, for ſecuring the ſaid Snow, and the Criminals or any of them, in caſe they ſhould come into any Port or Place within the Dominions of this State.

Whitehall, Sept. 21. The States General having cauſed the preceeding Reſolution to be made publick, it is judged proper to give an Account of what has been done here in the Affair to which it relates.

Upon a Repreſentation of M. Chamorel the French Secretary, that laſt Winter Peter Tartoué Maſter of a Ship belonging to Nantes, being at Cork, took on board four Paſſengers for France; that thoſe Paſſengers when they were out at Sea, killed the ſaid Maſter and all the Ship's Company, poſſeſſed themſelves of the Ship, and afterwards put into Dartmouth, where they made ſome Alterations in order to diſguiſe her; the Right Honourable the Lord Carteret one of His Majeſty's Principal Secretaries of State, immediately ſignified His Majeſty's Commands that a ſtrict and diligent Search ſhould be made in all the Ports of Great Britain and Ireland, to the end the Ship might be recovered for the Uſe of the Owners, and the Offenders brought to Juſtice. Some time after the iſſuing of thoſe Orders, Information was given to the Lord Carteret, that a Perſon who was under an Arreſt for Debt, and went by the Name of John Euſtace, was very probably one of thoſe concerned in the Murther of the Maſter and Crew of the French Ship before-mentioned. Upon this Information the Lord Carteret by a Warrant ordered him to be brought before him, and upon Examination he inſiſted that his Name was John Euſtace, notwithſtanding a Letter had been found in his Pocket directed to him by his Wife by the Name of Roche; till being confronted by the Captain of a Ship who ſwore he had known him perſonally for many Years, he confeſſed his true Name to be Philip Roche. This, with ſeveral other Circumſtances wherein he prevaricated and contradicted himſelf, ſerved to confirm the Suſpicion againſt him; ſo that his Lordſhip committed him to Newgate for Pyracy and vehement Suſpicion of Murther. After he had been a few Days in Newgate, (where he now continues,) he made an ample Confeſſion, as well of the Murther of Peter Tartoué and of his Crew, as of Henry Ouſley; and named his Accomplices. Upon his Deſcription of their Perſons and of their uſual Places of Abode, or where they might moſt probably be found, his Lordſhip diſpatched His Majeſty's Orders to ſeveral

Ports

Ports and Places for the apprehending them; by which Means two of them, viz. Richard Neale and Francis Wiſe have been already taken in Ireland, and His Majeſty's Orders are gone for their being brought over hither to be tried by a Court of Admiralty. It is hoped the diligent Endeavours uſed for ſeizing the reſt will likewiſe ſucceed; it being His Majeſty's Intention, in Regard to the Barbarity of the Facts, that ſuch of thoſe Criminals as are or ſhall be apprehended, ſhould be proſecuted with the utmoſt Rigour of the Law.

Paris, Sept. 26, N. S. The 16th of next Month is fixed for the Departure of the King and Court for Rheims. The following Extract of the Advices received by the Court relating to the Plague, has been communicated to the foreign Miniſters.

The Duke de Roquelaure has tranſmitted a Letter from the Phyſicians at Mende dated the 7th of September, adviſing that the laſt Perſon who had fallen ſick died on the 6th, and that there were but three remaining ſick, who were all on the Recovery. The Bailly de Langeron in his of the 9th of September ſays all went well at Marſeilles, ſo that he ſhould not write any more about the Sickneſs, unleſs ſome Accident ſhould happen. The Conſuls of Avignon in a Letter dated the 8th of September relate, that ſince the 19th of Auguſt none had died or fallen ſick of the Plague in that City. M. de Belrieu writes the 13th of September, that for a long time no Perſon had died or fallen ill of any contagious Diſtemper, neither in the Comtat, nor in the Principality of Orange.

Whitehall, Sept. 21. Letters from Lisbon of the 25th of Auguſt, N. S. give an Account that the King of Portugal has made a new Alvara or Regulation for preventing the Running of Goods. It bears Date the 9th of the ſame Month, was publiſhed on the 20th, and is as follows.

UPON Information that the Penalties impoſed by the Foral Law of the Cuſtom-Houſe, and by the Extraordinary Law of the 6th of September 1705, are not ſufficient to prevent the Detriment which my Treaſury ſuffers, by means of Goods run from on board of Packet-Boats, and other Ships, which ought to have been diſpatched at the Cuſtom-Houſe, and to have paid their reſpective Duties: And finding it abſolutely neceſſary to eſtabliſh new Cautions and Remedies, in order to avoid ſo prejudicial a Practice: It is our Pleaſure, that no Perſon, of whatſoever Quality, Eſtate or Condition, ſhall be ſuffered to go on board of Packet-Boats, or any other Merchant Ships, belonging either to Natives or Foreigners, or on board of the Convoys of the Fleets from the Brazils, whilſt any of the ſaid Ships are unloading, without ſpecial Licence from the Inſpector of the Cuſtom-Houſe given in Writing, and ſpecifying that the Perſon ſo licenſed, ſhall return directly from the Ship which he is permitted to go to, to the Cuſtom-Houſe, there to be examined, if he have brought away with him any Goods, Gold, Silver or Money. And this Form ſhall be obſerved with Reference to the Ship from India, by the Procurator thereof: This Prohibition ſhall not only extend to all Ships when come to an Anchor in this Harbour, but likewiſe to Ships at Anchor or under Sail, from the Bar of Caſcais upwards. And before Ships are come to an Anchor in this Port, it ſhall be allowable only for the Pilots of the Bar to go on board them, the Veſſels in which they go to the Side of the Ship immediately removing from thence, aſſoon as the Pilot is put on board. Furthermore, Upon Information, that in order to facilitate the Running of Goods, there has been invented a Sort of Boats much lighter than ordinary Frigates, which it is convenient ſhould be prohibited: It is our Pleaſure that the ſaid Sort be extinguiſhed, and no longer uſed in the Ports of this Kingdom; and whatſoever ſmall Veſſels of that Nature are in this Harbour, ſhall be pulled to Pieces within eight Days after the Publication of this Law. And all Tranſgreſſors hereof, ſhall incur the Penalty of Ten Years Baniſhment to Maranham, beſides the Loſs of whatſoever Goods ſhall be run, and of the one half of all their Goods and Chattels. The Perſons alſo who ſhall be found ſelling Goods, that have not been diſpatched, according to the Foral Law, ſhall incur the ſame Penalties. And of the Tranſgreſſors of this Law, as alſo of the Goods run contrary to it, Information may be given either in publick or in ſecret: And one Third of the Goods ſeized, as likewiſe of the Goods belonging to the Criminal, ſhall be given to the Informer. It is our Pleaſure alſo, that in caſes of this Nature, no Bail of any kind be allowed, and that no Privileges be admitted, even of thoſe which are incorporated in our Laws; for as to this Matter, it is our Pleaſure that they be all derogated and of no Effect, in the ſame manner as if they had been here, each of them, ſpecially mentioned. For ſo it is neceſſary they ſhould be, for the extinguiſhing ſuch Practices, and puniſhing the Delinquents. Furthermore, the Penalties abovementioned ſhall be inflicted on all Perſons, who ſhall put any Goods on board, or take any Goods from on board any Ship or Veſſel, belonging to Natives or Strangers, after they are diſpatched outwards, whether it be done within or without the Bar. And the Captain, Maſter, or other Officer on board any Ship, who ſhall receive ſuch Goods, or give Aid or Favour to the receiving the ſame, ſhall incur the ſame Penalties; the ſame is ordained in caſe they ſhall ſuffer any Goods to be taken out of their Ships. And the Inſpectors of the Cuſtom-Houſe and India Houſe are hereby ſtrictly charged not to grant Licences for going on board any Ships, without manifeſt Cauſe and Neceſſity. The Council of Treaſury are required to take ſpecial Notice hereof, and to ſee it executed, in the Part which belongs to their Juriſdiction. Weſt-Lisbon, Aug. 9, 1722.

The preceeding Alvara is publiſhed, to the Intent all Britiſh Merchants trading to Portugal may take Notice of the Rules preſcribed therein, and conform themſelves thereto, to prevent any Inconveniences or Loſſes which they may otherwiſe ſuſtain.
